

Brief Curriculum Vitae

Dr. Grigoriadis Konstantinos PhD, MSc, PT
grigoriakost@uniwa.gr

Dr. Grigoriadis Konstantinos is ICU Physiotherapist and Head of the Physiotherapy Department of the University General Hospital "ATTIKON".

He is Adjunct Academic Staff of the University of West Attica at Faculty of Physiotherapy and from March 2012 conducts the Course of Clinical Practice on Cardiopulmonary Diseases and especially in the field of Physiotherapy in ICU.

He has many years of hospital experience and he is expertized on Physiotherapy Techniques both in ICU and in Cardiac Surgery Clinic such as:

- non-invasive lung ventilation,
- weaning from mechanical ventilation,
- bronchial drainage and accompanying techniques,
- handling of critically ill patients.

He is a founding member of the Scientific Department of Cardiovascular and Respiratory Physiotherapy and Rehabilitation of the Panhellenic Association of Physiotherapists.

He holds a PhD in Intensive Care from the Medical School of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, an MSc in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation from the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, a BSc in Physiotherapy from the Physiotherapy Department of Athens Technological Educational Institute, and a Bachelor of Health Science in Aesthetics from Athens Technological Educational Institute.

Google Scholar:

<https://scholar.google.gr/citations?user=DQtiGl4AAAAJ&hl=el>